

Do you need help with the CITB Construction Skills Health and Safety Test?

The CSCS (Construction Skills Certification Scheme) is a required skill which people require to work on building sites within the UK.

The qualification means that the person has passed basic site awareness in Health and Safety aspects around the work place.

Once you have obtained your CSCS Card it is renewable every three to five years.

We offer one to one help with practical mock tests including the managerial & professional test prior to you attending the test centre.

If you require any CSCS Card preparation or further information then please get in touch. Please see our contact details below:
